COURT ACTION SAYS BUSHNELL PAID HUGE SUM

Was in Settlement of Claim of "Equestrienne" Is Allegation.

New York, February 5.—Papers filed in Supreme Court yesterday disclosed that John L. Bushnell, former President of the First National Bank of Springfield, Ohio, and son of former Governor Asa Bushnell, of Ohio, had signed checks for $50,000 in settlement of a claim made by Pauline C. Hays, of New York, who described herself as an "equestrienne" by profession, driving horses at public exhibitions.

The papers were made public on an application by Miss Hays to compel her former attorney, Jerome C. Jacobs, to return a number of papers received from her, including a telegram check and 14 letters from Mr. Bushnell. She also asked that an order be signed directing Jacobs to pay her $12,000, with interest, and to endorse a check for $35,000 received from Bushnell as part of the settlement and made out to Jacobs.

The case will be heard today. Miss Hays asserted she engaged Jacobs in December, 1922, to adjust a claim against Bushnell for $50,000 "for breach of contract in connection with services previously rendered."

Mr. Bushnell resigned last July as President of the First National Bank and as Director of the American Trust and Savings Bank of Springfield, after he had caused the arrest of Don Osborn, alias L. H. Putnam, and Rose Osborn, for an alleged attempt to extort $10,000 from him.

GERMANY DOES NOT PAY HONOR TO LATE CHIEF

Flag at Full Mast at Embassy in Washington, D. C.

Washington, Feb. 5.—While the diplomatic colony of Washington joined today in expressions of sorrow over the death of Woodrow Wilson and half masted their flags in conformity with the flag over government buildings, the flag over the German embassy continued to fly at full staff.

Members of the embassy staff said it remained at full mast in accordance with orders from the government at Berlin.

Telephonic inquiry at the embassy drew the reply that the Berlin government considered America's war time president, a "private citizen" for whom no special honors need be paid and consequently the flag on the embassy was not half-masted, as were all the other flags in the capital.

Embassy officials displayed some embarrassment over the matter, but took the position that the government's orders had to be carried out.

The incident caused some unpleasant comment in government circles, and resulted in many telephone calls to newspaper offices, government departments and the embassy itself, as to why the flag was not half masted as others.

The flag was later lowered entirely.

FLAGS SHOULD BE LOWERED ONE THIRD

Chicago, Feb. 5.—A flag in mourning for Woodrow Wilson, according to military and naval usage should be lowered one-third from the top of the staff, rather than half way down, naval and military officers announced. The reason is that flags lowered a half of the length of the pole are in danger of dragging or becoming entangled.

The correct ceremony for placing flags at half staff is to raise the flag to the top and then to lower slowly.

"We use the expression, half staff," said Colonel M. McCloskey of headquarters, Sixth Corps area, "because on the old time flag pole there was a crosspiece one-third from the top which divided the pole. The part above the cross-piece was termed the staff and in periods of mourning the flag was lowered to a point midway between the top of the pole and the cross-piece. Now we simply lower the flag about one-third the length of the pole, sufficient to make a distinct drop visible at a distance."

GOVERNOR M'CRAY OF INDIANA APPEARS FOR FIRST TIME IN COURT DURING HEARING

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 5.—Governor Warren T. McCray appeared in the Marion County Criminal Court for the first time today in connection with the charges filed against him by the grand jury. Arraignment on the 16 indictments and counts was waived and a plea in abatement filed. The court announced a ruling on the plea would be made next Tuesday.

FORMER OFFICIALS ON DOHENY PAYROLL

Testifying before a Senatorial investigating committee, E. L. Doheny, multi-millionaire oil magnate, who loaned Albert B. Fall $100,000, swore he had retained William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury; Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior; Thomas W. Gregory, former Attorney General, and George Creel, so-called publicity agent of the Wilson Administration, after they had left their Government positions. None of them, he said, had any connection whatever with the Government when he employed them. Mr. Gregory had been selected by President Coolidge to investigate oil land leases, but this testimony caused the withdrawal of his name.

WOODROW WILSON TO BE BURIED ON WEDNESDAY, PRIVATELY AS ASKED

Washington, Feb. 5.—Woodrow Wilson is to be buried tomorrow exactly as he wished—as a private citizen, for whom there should be no ostentation, no pompous display of national sorrow, no state or public ceremonies. Members of his family made known this wish of the former president today, in meeting objections raised in some quarters to the essentially private nature of the whole obsequies, with which his war-wrecked body will be consigned tomorrow to the keeping of time.

"It was his wish," they said. And before this unanswerable argument, all objections melted away, and the voice of a public and a government anxious to do him homage, was stilled. One of the few public events in which Mr. Wilson participated after his retirement from the White House, was the funeral of the unknown soldier who was buried in Arlington National Cemetery, with all the pomp and splendor of a grateful nation was capable of rendering to its great. Mr. Wilson was deeply impressed. He thought it was fitting that the symbolic figure of America's heroic dead should be so honored.

But at the same time he is said to have expressed a wish that when his time came, he would be buried simply as a private citizen, mourned by his friends. A veteran of the war, perhaps, but still a private citizen, no different from the thousands of other war veterans who have found their final resting places in the home soil. And so tomorrow America's best known soldier will be delivered to Time's keeping with only the simplest and most unostentatious of ceremonies. But even his own wishes and those of his family cannot entirely shut out the national sorrow that is felt at Wilson's passing from the stage of world affairs. It is true he will be buried as he wished, as a private citizen, but it will be as the most distinguished private citizen in America. Thousands of his friends and devoted followers will line the streets that lead from his modest home to the heights of Mount St. Albans, where, in the towering national cathedral his body will be laid away to its well earned rest. Other thousands will crowd the cathedral grounds to hear the brief, simple ceremonies.

The commerce of the city will be stilled and the business of government suspended while his remains are removed from the red brick house where

NAMED TO VILLAGE COUNCIL MONDAY

J. F. Gordon, Jamestown, retired farmer, was elected member of the Jamestown Village Council Monday night to succeed A. G. Paulin, who died recently while serving his second term on that body.

Delvin E. Hilton, village clerk, who is removing soon to Xenia, tendered his resignation at the meeting Monday night and Roy Moorman, cashier of the Farmers and Traders Bank, Jamestown, was elected to succeed him.

The question of paving Limestone St., from the railroad on the south to Cassacreek on the north, a distance of about four squares, was postponed until a special meeting next Monday night. Acting City Engineer Kennedy of Washington C. H., who has been engaged to prepare estimates of the work, was not prepared to furnish the figures Monday night.

Governor McCray is charged with grand larceny, embezzlement, forgery, issuing fraudulent checks and giving false financial statements. Attorneys for the government declared the Grand Jury which returned the indictments was improperly constituted because women were prevented from serving.

The governor merely sat in the court room, listening to attorneys but making no statement.

DISPELS FEAR OF WITHDRAWAL OF INVESTMENTS

Northwest Safe So Far As Insurance Investments
Concerned

Washington, Feb. 5.—Fear that insurance companies having loans of nearly a half billion dollars in the northwestern agricultural districts might withdraw further investments in that field as a result of the farm bank crisis, were dispelled today.

Robert Lynn Cox, of New York, and Fred A. Howland, of Vermont, insurance executives, who attended the conference of commercial, transportation, banking and agricultural leaders called by President Coolidge, to seek a solution for the northwestern economic tangle, declared that no withdrawals are contemplated. The insurance group at the president's conference represented sources of more than five billion dollars.

"There is practically an unlimited supply of insurance money available for loans conforming to our requirements in the Northwest," Cox told the International News Service. "No withdrawals have been made or suggested by the large insurance companies. Thousands of loans representing vast sums of money have been made since the first of the year. Loans are now being negotiated, as in the past without hesitation, so long as they meet the requirements of the insurance companies, fixed by law and policy."

Both Cox and Howland asserted that the big insurance companies were not worried over the northwestern situation. They expressed willingness to cooperate with the government and private agencies to assist in the economic fabric of the northwest.

FIRE LOSS $50,000

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Damage totaling $50,000 resulted from a fire last night in a downtown building housing the Springfield Underwear Company, the United Woolen Mills Company, printers and postcard manufacturers.

A radio message was picked up here during the night from Waupaca, Wis., telling of a train snowbound and her passengers in dire straits at Green Bay, Wisconsin. The message read:

"Any station in communication with KYW, Chicago, tell them to communicate with WPAH (at Waupaca) account train there snowbound and people in distress."

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 5.—The wind and sleet storm moving across Indiana today delayed train service and crippled communication. All trains from Chicago were reported late as were those from northern cities in Indiana.

Around Peoria and Pekin, Ill., the storm damage was reported heavy, with hundreds of telegraph poles down.

Near Evansville and in the "pocket" district a small sized tornado did heavy damage. It centered at Fort Branch and Haubstadt, north of Evansville, and caused much property damage but resulted in no loss of life.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The severe rain and sleet storm in the Middle-west will move slowly northeastward during the next 36 hours, attended by general precipitation east of the Mississippi river, except in the extreme south, the United States Weather Bureau announced today.

Gales in the vicinity of Chicago have reached a velocity of 56 miles an hour, according to reports reaching here.

The temperature is expected to rise.

MENTION POMERENE AS STRONG TIMBER FOR DEMOCRATS

Washington, Feb. 5.—The Washington Star yesterday predicted that Ohio may furnish the next Democratic presidential candidate. It said:

"The McAdoo comet, up to three days ago blazing pre-eminent in the political sky, apparently dims its glow, threatening to slowly extinguish. Then appears a new meteor in the firmament. President Coolidge invites former Senator Pomerene of Ohio to the White House to luncheon and asks him to conduct, as the Democratic bipartisan member of the federal board, the prosecution of the suits against the oil companies who have obtained leases of the government naval oil reserves.

"Mr. Pomerene has a lifetime been mentioned as available Democratic presidential timber. Upon retirement from the senate he returned to the practice of law, eschewing politics, and his name has been omitted of late from mention as a potential candidate from the Democratic presidential nomination. Suppose he looms into prominence in connection with the oil suits? The 'makings' are inherent for such a development. The eyes of the entire country will be upon him."

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 5.—A hail of bullets from the guns of posse brought to a tragic close the escape of three state penitentiary convicts who got away 18 hours before, after killing James Hart, 62 year old guard. Armed with only a revolver, taken over the slain guard, and defiant to the end, the fugitives met their death late last night in a haystack in which they sought refuge, on the farm of John Schepker, five miles southeast of here.

The three convicts, who were known as "bad" men, were Frank Delcore, who was serving 45 years for murder; Miles Thomas, serving eight years for burglary and Jack McFall, of Kansas City, who was in for ten years for highway robbery.

The posse got a tip from a dairyman that he believed the men were hiding in one of his barns. Fresh snow had fallen and the posse tracked the men two miles to the haystack, where one of the fugitives, armed with a revolver, opened fire on the officers.

Wilson's Property
Will Not Exceed
$150,000 IS BELIEF

Washington, February, 5.—There is much interest in the will of Woodrow Wilson, about which his associates in official life know but little.

From the best information available it is believed the former President's income property at the time of his death probably would not exceed $150,000.

Add to this the value of his S Street home, which, is understood was owned jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, and the sum probably would be doubled.

Mrs. Wilson, who was Mrs. Norman Galt, widow of a Washington jeweler, has a small fortune in her own name. The Galt jewelry store, from which she derived her income, still is in existence.

After their marriage, they pooled their incomes while at the White House and since, to share in the upkeep of the home and family. During his occupancy of the White House Mr. Wilson's savings are said to have been less than $25,000 a year.

His salary was subject to a high income tax and prior to the inauguration of President Harding it was necessary for the chief executive to pay the expenses of public receptions and dinners out of his own pocket. The President then also was required to pay the salaries of various attendants in the White House.

The former President was generous in a number of ways. During the years of the war he bought Liberty bonds greatly in excess of his income and must have exhausted his savings to do so. It was the habit with him to open drives with a generous subscription.

Mr. Wilson spent much in the medical education of his unmarried daughter, Margaret. He also had the expense of the weddings of his other daughters Eleanor and Jessie.

At the time he was elected to be President, Mr. Wilson is said to have saved virtually nothing, and the income from royalties on his books is known not to have exceeded $3,000 a year. For a time after he was first in the White House these royalties doubled and during the time he remained in the White House they remained more than $10,000. Upon his retirement, however, the royalties again dwindled.

One of the most valuable assets which he will leave behind is his library, containing many rare volumes. It cannot be learned what disposition he made of it. He also had many other possessions, certain of them almost of priceless value, which he collected on his visit to Europe or which were presented to him by various Governments.

Stroudsburg, Pa., Feb. 5.—Eli Everett, 65 years old, shot and killed his 23-year-old wife and then committed suicide at their home in East Stroudsburg this morning. The couple were married about a year ago in Canada.

A family dispute is believed to have precipitated the tragedy. Saturday night Mrs. Everett sought to have her husband arrested for an alleged attack upon her, but dropped the charge when a reconciliation was effected in the district attorney's office.

NEW AND SENSATIONAL REVELATIONS PROMISED BY SENATE COMMITTEE

Begins Examination of Officers of Leading Stock Brokerage Firms in New York, Cleveland and Washington

Washington, Feb. 5.—While official activities in the naval oil leasing scandal remained in abeyance because of the death of ex-President Woodrow Wilson, developments behind the scenes broke today with the fury of a storm at sea, lashed to a furious gale. Much of the mystery and secrecy that has surrounded the senate's investigation into the leases since last Saturday, lifted and revealed many new angles that may produce sensations of a graver character than previously unearthed.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The Senate's investigation of stock market operations in connection with the lease of the Teapot Dome oil reserve to Harry F. Sinclair, struck a snag today when Samuel Ungerleider, Cleveland stock broker, failed to answer a summons to appear before the public lands committee.

When Ungerleider failed to answer when his name was called by Chairman Lenroot, the committee adjourned until Thursday.

The short session of the committee today, when it had been planned to ask Ungerleider and other stockbrokers for books that might shed light upon the maze of conflicting rumors connecting a senator and a former high official of the Harding administration with deals in Sinclair's stock, drew only one spectator in comparison to the crowds that previously have jammed the hearing rooms.

Besides only a handful of committee members were present.

When Lenroot asked: "Is Mr. Ungerleider in the room?" a deep silence prevailed. Committee members with quizzical looks upon their faces, glanced at one another and about the room. The sat in silence for several moments.

"I understood Mr. Ungerleider was here," Lenroot added.

"What was Ungerleider to tell the committee?" asked Senator Kendrick, Democrat of Wyoming.

"The committee did not want to question him very long," replied Lenroot. "We wanted to ask him about some books and documents that were mentioned in the subpoena."

When, after several minutes of waiting the Cleveland stock broker did not appear, Lenroot suggested that the committee adjourn until Thursday. This was agreed to.

No effort was made to hear other stockbrokers who are under subpoena.

After the room was cleared, of the one spectator, an elderly lady who has missed only few meetings since the hearing started last October, the committee held an informal discussion. Then Lenroot explained what books the committee desired from Ungerleider and other brokers. These books cover the period during which the leases were made. Committee members desire to learn whether any governmental officials are listed.

After the committee adjourned, Ungerleider, accompanied by James Sloan, his former Washington manager, arrived in the committee room. He explained that he had been in Washington, but was under the impression that the meeting was not until 10:30 o'clock. The committee met at 10.

Ungerleider, who immediately went to Lenroot's office to explain his failure to be present, declared he had with him all books requested by the committee.

New and startling revelations in the naval oil scandal were promised as the Senate public lands committee today began an examination of officials of leading stock brokerage firms in New York, Cleveland and Washington.

If the evidence unearthed is such as contemplated by members of the committee on the basis of private information, additional high government officers may be caught in the dragnet and found to be involved in the oil reserve "mess."

Information has been called to the attention of the committee that one member of the committee itself and a former official who was close to the administration of the late president (Harding) were in the "know" and profited financially by dealing in Sinclair stock before the announcement of the lease of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair, by ex-Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall was made public.

Numerous stock brokers were summoned to be on hand today, including Carl P. Bigberman, of the Chase National Bank, New York; Samuel Ungerleider, of Cleveland; W. B. Hibbs, of Higgs and Company, Washington and James Sloan, former White House secret service man, and Washington agent of the Ungerleider company.

As the committee will ask the Senate Thursday for re-affirmation of its authority to conduct the oil probe, challenged by Fall, the former secretary has been directed to appear Friday for further examination. Fall's counsel intimated today that he would remain firm in his decision not to answer questions of the committee, based on the grounds that he was not a party to the transaction.

"PADLOCK LAW" ACTION FILED HERE TUESDAY

The first action filed in Greene County under the "padlock law," which permits declaring a place where liquor has been sold or kept a public nuisance and locking it up for one year, was filed in Common Pleas Court, Tuesday, by Prosecuting Attorney J. K. Williamson against property at 108 E. Main St. owned by Edward and Richard Hurst and occupied as a restaurant by Paul Edwards.

The case follows a plea of guilty entered in Police Court, Monday, by Edwards on a charge of possessing liquor, on which he had originally pled not guilty. The case followed a raid on the place about two weeks ago when police confiscated two gallons of dishwater into which they alleged corn liquor had been poured, in an effort to destroy it as evidence. Edwards was to have been given a hearing in Police Court Tuesday, but, appearing Monday, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty. Judge E. D. Smith fined him $400 and costs of which he paid $200 and gave bond for the payment of the rest. Under the terms of the "padlock law," as Edwards stands convicted in Police Court, Common Pleas Court can order the place closed for one year from the date of the decree.

The petition filed by Prosecutor Williamson declares the building is a brick, two-story structure, painted brown, located at 108 E. Main St. and owned by Edward and Richard Hurst, with Paul Edwards lessee. The petition declares it is a place where intoxicating liquor has been manufactured, sold, bartered, possessed and kept in violation of the law. It alleged that Edwards was arrested January 25 on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor, on which charge he was convicted in Police Court February 4.

The petition further declares that because the place is used for keeping and selling liquor, it is a public and common nuisance and is subject to abatement for such illegal purposes by an injunction and restraining order. It recites that if the place should not be abated and closed up, the defendants will continue to use it for illegal purposes.

Therefore, the petition asks that under Section 13195-1 of the General Code of Ohio, that the place should be declared a public and common nuisance and abated as such, and that the defendants, their servants, agents, subordinates, employees and their lessees, assignees, heirs, executors, administrators and devisees may be enjoined and inhibited from further use of the place. The petition asks that they be restrained from using the place under temporary order pending the legal action and for one year after the decree is allowed.

The place was raided by officers under Chief of Police M. E. Graham January 25, the party including Patrolmen Sowards, Spencer and Thompson. When they entered the kitchen in the rear of the restaurant they could smell corn liquor, they alleged, and declare that a coffee pot containing the intoxicant had been emptied into a pan of dishwater. The dishwater was confiscated and an analysis made by a Springfield chemist showed it contained eight per cent alcohol.

It is understood the "padlock law" which is being used here for the first time, provides that the court may fix a suitable bond under which the place can be used, the bond insuring that it will not be used for illegal purposes.

United States of America 4 1/4% Treasury Bonds payable Oct. 15, 1947-52

ARE THE BEST GOVERNMENT BONDS FOR THE AVERAGE INVESTOR?

The United States Government security with the longest life is probably the best one for the average investor who has decided to buy a Liberty Bond.

Assuming that an average man has decided to buy a Liberty bond, which one should he get? Since his investment is likely to become more attractive over a period of years, as was illustrated in "Money at Work" yesterday, the investor naturally wants the bond which he can keep the longest.

The policy of the government is to retire its bonds as soon as possible, so the earliest redeemable date must be considered.

The holders of United States 4 1/4 per cent bonds payable October 15, 1947-52 will be able to hold their bonds at least 14 years longer than the holders of any other important government issue. They are probably the best for the average investor.

PROBE OF FIRE IS CONTINUED BEHIND SHUT OFFICE DOORS

Officials and former officials of Wilberforce University were being examined Tuesday in the minute probe of the fire that destroyed B. F. Lee dormitory last Thursday inaugurated by Michael Powers, Springfield, deputy fire marshal and J. E. McGinn, chief of the Cincinnati office.

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson is also assisting in the examination, which is being held in the office of Miss Elsie Canby, court stenographer, behind closed doors. Testimony of those being questioned is being taken down by Miss Canby to preserve the records of the testimony.

Dormitory proctors and former proctors, President J. A. Gregg, Dean Jones and other college officials were being questioned in the attempt to solve the mystery surrounding the origin of the blaze, and fix responsibility for it.

The fire started at 1:30 o'clock in the morning of last Thursday and forced 127 students in the dormitory to leave hastily. Nine were injured in leaping from second-story windows, and four or five are still in the university hospital.

University authorities immediately suspected an incendiary back of the conflagration and notified authorities who communicated with the state fire marshal's office, resulting in a preliminary probe last week by Powers. The two inspectors returned here Monday and expect to remain here until they have sifted the case down. Arrests are hoped for as a result of the present probe.

The probe began about two o'clock Tuesday morning and was resumed at one o'clock in the afternoon after a noon recess.

A pleated side frill is all there is to this port blouse, but it is enough to make the blouse new and take it out of the commonplace class. For wear with the sport suit, it is practically only the strictly sport type of suit which wears a separate blouse nowadays, this model is extremely attractive in white with tan silk to bind the edges. In beige with light brown frill and bindings it is also good looking, or in tan with Lamvin green edges.

For costume blouses, chiffons and velvets in brocade patterns are the kind one sees chiefly. These softer materials with their beautiful colors which lend themselves to harmonious combinations with cloth or velvet three-piece suits, have proved more popular than the metallic materials which earlier in the season were introduced with rather a splurge.

In the model shown above soft old blue and gray brocade chiffon, with the blue stressed in the pleated edge of the sleeves, makes a most likeable and practical blouse.

TO THE AMERICAN WARRIOR The Bible is the word of life. I beg that you will read it and find this out for yourselves—read, not little snatches here and there, but long passages that will really be the road to the heart of it.

You will find it not only full of real men and women, but also of things you have wondered about, and been troubled about all your life, as men have been always; and the more you read, the more it will become plain to you what things are worth while and what are not; what things make men happy—loyalty, right dealings speaking the truth, readiness to give everything for what they think their duty, and, most of all, the wish that they may have the real approval of the Christ, who gave everything for them—and the things that are guaranteed to make men unhappy—selfishness, cowardice, greed and everything that is low and mean.

When you have read the Bible you will know that it is the "Word of God," because you have found it the key to your own heart, your own happiness and your own duty.

BRITISH NAVAL GRIP SUPREME; GERMAN VIEW

Berlin, Feb. 5.—"France will never win a war against England. Great Britain's naval superiority will victoriously resist any alliance of Powers that France may be able to bring about within the next few years."

This is the opinion of ex-Admiral von Grapow, a German naval expert, expressed in an article on the question whether a British blockade against France might be successful.

"It is not that England is afraid of France, but she is simply tired of war. That's what was weighing on proud Albion's mind all the time and what made England allow France to take her in tow politically. The air menace is a fact, but it won't bring England down on her knees before France."

NEVER HAS WON.

"Remember, France never has won in any war against England for centuries since Great Britain restricted herself to naval warfare. All wars waged by France, then allied to Spain and Holland, respectively, did nothing but contribute to strengthen England's naval power and to extend her colonial empire."

"There is only one chance for France to decide such a war in her favor—an alliance with the United States. If under the present conditions such an alliance seems more than doubtful. There is the steady menace of Japan taking an advantage of such a war and making herself mistress of the Pacific. America probably will prefer to maintain a 'benevolent' neutrality. It means good business for her and an extension and stabilization of the Monroe Doctrine. There is enough room in the world for both America and England to go fifty-fifty on the world's trade without fighting each other. Besides, America will certainly not be willing for a second time to be made a cat's-paw for the sake of European peace."

OUTCLASS U. S. NAVY.

"But even if America, France, Italy and Spain were allied England's chances would be far better than ours were in 1914. At first sight the naval strength of the United States and that of Great Britain seem to keep the same level; but after careful investigation it is evident that, though equal in numbers, British battleships are far superior in fighting quality to American ships of the same type. The superiority in battle cruisers is just as overwhelming as that of destroyers and U-boat flotillas. America has to be protected on two sides, which means that her navy will have to fight on two fronts with a considerably reduced number of fighting units. Great Britain, therefore, will always maintain the strategic initiative. She will practically be mistress of the seas at the very beginning of the struggle."

"Continental allies need not be taken into account. They would only play an important part in the war if allied to England. Russia, France's most formidable ally, is out altogether."

JAP ADVENT REMOTE.

"Remains Japan, which will probably remain neutral at the beginning. It has no interest in a breach with England, but later on it may play the same part America played during the World War."

"The attitude of Spain and Italy will be of great importance. England, in her attempt to be protected on the road to India, secured the neutrality, if not the friendship, of these two Powers lately. The comparative strength of the navies maintained in the Mediterranean proves that Spain and Italy will see their advantage in joining England against France. This triple entente could avail of no more than thirteen ships of a more or less obsolete type against twenty-six most powerful British units."

Summing up the results of his investigation, von Grapow says: "Great Britain will maintain an undisputed

WINNER OF $50,000 BOK PEACE AWARD IS NOW ANNOUNCED

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—Charles Herbert Levermore of New York student of international relations, writer and former college professor, last night was announced as the winner of the $50,000 prize offered by Edward W. Bok, Philadelphia publisher for the best plan to preserve peace among the nations of the world.

Dr. Levermore was announced as the winner by John W. Davis, of the policy committee of the American Peace Award, at a meeting at the Academy of Music. Mr. Davis also presented him with $50,000, half of Mr. Bok's price and the remainder will be given only if the plan is accepted by the Congress of the United States. Dr. Levermore's plan was number 1469 in a total of 22,165 received.

The winner of the plan, the text of which was made public some weeks ago the name of the author being kept secret has long been a student of international affairs and has written a number of books on that general subject. He has been an instructor in various colleges, including the University of California and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and for 13 years was president of Adelphi College, Brooklyn. He was born Oct. 15, 1886, in Mansfield, Conn., and was graduated from Yale College in 1899. He also studied history and politics at Johns Hopkins University and received the degree of Ph. D., in 1896. He is a member of the Republican party.

achievements of the League during each twelve months. Three of these have been published and a fourth is being prepared.

Mothers You Can Prevent Children From Taking Cold

Next Time They Come in Wet and "Sniffing" Rub This Vapor Salve over Throat and Chest.

When children come in from play with feet wet, noses blue and hands like lumps of ice, you feel sure that they are "in for a cold."

But the next time try Vicks. At bedtime rub this vaporizing salve well in over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc.—in the form of vapors, and these vapors go directly to the air passages, stimulating the mucous membrane to repel germ attacks.

At the same time Vicks increases the circulation of the blood thruout the chest region, thus helping to prevent any congestion developing.

If applied in time, Vicks will prevent many colds from getting a start and its use doesn't disturb the child's digestion as constant internal dosing is so apt to do.

BIG LAYERS

LAYING eggs is a natural process—never try to force it. But any flock needs more than just average feed; it needs nourishment which contains all the elements found in an egg. A hen cannot lay half an egg. Pratts Poultry Regulator adds every needed element to feed. In it are rare seeds and herbs—many foreign grown—many vital things your hens do not get in the richest mash. Light layers lack the minerals and other elements which form yolks and whites and shells of eggs—they'll lay more from the day you correct this. Invest a quarter and start today! Some amazing facts are found in Practical Pointers—a poultry book Pratts will send free, or ask your dealer.

SECOND AUXILIARY MEETING MONDAY

A short period of silent prayer in honor of the late ex-president Wilson, was observed by the members of the Second Auxiliary, W. H. M. S., of the First M. E. Church, at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. G. A. Scott on West Market Street, Monday evening.

Fifty-six women attended the meeting, which opened with devotions by Mrs. Charles A. Keble. The program of the evening, was in charge of Mrs. W. C. Doyas, Miss Irene Parrett played a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Helen Hurley. Mrs. Ed Lauman gave a reading, and Mrs. J. Thorb Charters gave the chapter from the study book. The program closed with a reading by Mrs. Frank Keyes, and a vocal solo by Miss Lena Keller, accompanied by Miss Harriet Keller.

A refreshment course was served by the hostess committee consisting of Mrs. Scott, Mrs. A. W. Tullis, Mrs. Elton Smith, Mrs. W. O. Custis, Miss Bertha Hook, and Mrs. Frank Hurley.

ENTERTAIN FOR GUEST SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kohl of North King Street, entertained a company of guests, at dinner and luncheon, Sunday, honoring their guest, Mrs. Kohl's aunt, Mrs. Anna Bellangee Wilson, of Milan, Ohio. Covers were laid for eleven.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Converse, of Dayton, and Mrs. Kohl's father, Mr. J. G. Bellangee, of Evanston, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Filson of this city, were also among the guests.

Mrs. Wilson left Monday evening for Cincinnati, for a short visit with her brother, Mr. Bellangee, and will leave the latter part of the week for Charleston, South Carolina, to spend February and March, with her daughter, Miss Miriam Wilson.

ORIENT P. T. A. MEETING MONDAY

Twenty-two members of the Orient Hill Parent-Teacher Association, enjoyed an address on "Preventable Diseases," by Dr. Reyburn McClellan, at the meeting at the schoolhouse, Monday afternoon.

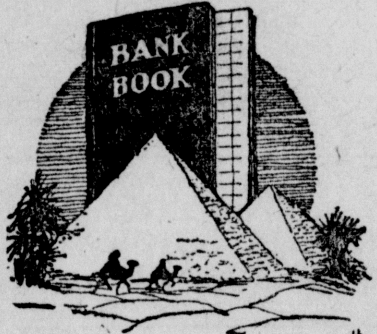

Plans were laid for an old-fashioned spelling bee and social to be held at the school Friday evening, February 29. All residents of Orient Hill are invited to attend the affair, and are requested to bring sandwiches.

A play was given at the meeting by several pupils of Miss Mary Evers' grade. A balance of $29.08 was reported in the bank of the association. Refreshments were served after the program.

HONORED AT DINNER IN URBANA, SATURDAY

Mrs. Wilbur Heathman, of this city, and Miss Flora Leo, of Dayton, guests of Mrs. John Ingle, of Urbana, were honor guests at a dinner party given by Mrs. Ingle, at her home, Saturday evening. Mrs. William Sennard, of Madison, Indiana, was one of the guests at the affair.

Dr. Charles Galloway of Evanston, Illinois, will be the guest Thursday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Galloway, of North Galloway Street. Dr. Galloway will speak before the Greene County Medical Association.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even itchy, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

Mrs. Henry Buckles, of West Second Street, will entertain the members of the Past Councilor's Club, of the D. of A. Lodge, at her home, Wednesday afternoon. All members are urged to be present.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

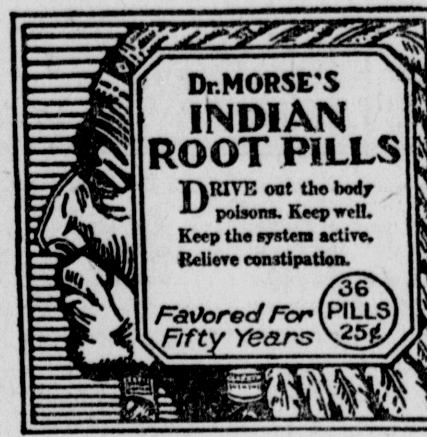

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

REPORTS GIVEN AT MEETING OF ROTARY CLUB ON TUESDAY

Several interesting reports were given during a business meeting of the Xenia Rotary Club, at the Elks' Lodge, Tuesday noon, following the regular club luncheon.

Dr. A. B. Kester reported on the crippled children's clinic, to be held next Tuesday morning at the Probate Court room, with which the Rotary Club is co-operating.

J. J. Stout reported on his investigation of the work of the Federated Parent-Teacher Association in feeding the children in the schools, and following his presentation of the matter, the club members decided to co-operate with the Federation in the proposition.

High tribute was paid to the memory of the late ex-president Wilson, in a short talk by Dr. B. R. McClellan during the meeting. He reviewed the principal events in the life of the war president, and spoke of his high ideals. The Rev. Brown offered a prayer in memory of Mr. Wilson.

P. H. Flynn, of the Xenia Shoe Manufacturing Company who represented the Rotary Club, at the meeting of the Greene County Commissioners, Monday, reported on the action taken by the county body, in voting against re-appointment of the county this year. A resolution was passed by the club, commending the County Commissioners on their action.

WILL CASE FINDS ITS WAY TO OHIO SUPREME COURT

A motion for the State Supreme Court to order the Greene County Appellate Court to certify its record in the case of George D. Oglesbee, against W. L. Miller, executor, was filed in Columbus Tuesday by Marcus Shoup, attorney for the plaintiff.

The action grows out of construction of the will of Martha Seiver Oglesbee, especially as relating to Item 5 of the will and as to the personal property which was devised to the testator's husband, George D. Oglesbee, during his life or widowhood.

The item under question is said to contain an ambiguity, but has been construed in Common Pleas Court and affirmed in the Court of Appeals, to mean that the testatrix intended to dispose of the entire residuum of the estate, through that section, whereas the plaintiff in the action attempted to recover personal property under that clause.

L. T. Marshall is attorney for the defendant, representing specifically, nephews and nieces of the testatrix's former husband, Mahlon H. Seiver, who seek to benefit under the clause.

CASE IS APPEALED TO SUPREME COURT IN MOTION TUESDAY

L. T. Marshall of this city attorney for the defendant in the case of Mary Mathews administratrix, against Louis Vandervoort an action to collect $25,000 damages, filed a motion in Ohio State Supreme Court Tuesday for an order directing the Greene County Court of Appeals to certify its records in the case.

The case was filed to collect the judgment as damages incident to the death of Elva Mathews, Xenia policeman, who was shot to death while on duty in December, 1922. When the action was filed, a motion, later sustained in Common Pleas to quash the service of summons on the grounds service was obtained illegally.

After the motion was sustained here the Appellate Court on appeal, reversed the Common Pleas Court, overruled the motion, and remanded the action for further legal procedure. The motion filed Tuesday is an action in appeal to the Supreme Court to get that body to review the decision in an attempt to have the Common Pleas Court decision affirmed and the appellate court reversed.

C. L. Darlington and F. L. Johnson are attorneys for the plaintiff in the damage action.

COURT NEWS

SUE FOR DIVORCES

Joseph Alexander is plaintiff in a divorce action in Common Pleas Court against Viola Alexander, whom he married September 11, 1917, at Cleveland. He charges gross neglect of duty and wilful absence more than three years. Lillian Dunkle charges neglect of duty in her petition for divorce and restoration to her former name, filed against Forest Dunkle.

FINED IN POLICE COURT

Abe Smith, colored, East Market Street, grocer, arrested Saturday on a charge of possessing corn liquor, was fined $500 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court, Monday afternoon.

Smith was arraigned Monday morning but pled not guilty. Monday afternoon he was again arraigned and changed his plea to guilty. Unable to pay the fine, he was committed to County Jail. This is the second time in a few weeks Smith has been convicted of violation of the liquor laws.

Names Mr. Harding in Oil Scandal.

Senator George W. Norris.

United States Senator George W. Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, astonished his party leaders by declaring on the floor of the Senate that the blame for the Teapot Dome oil leasing scandal rested on the late President Warren G. Harding for signing over to Secretary Fall, of the Interior Department, the right to dispose of naval oil lands.

NEW REVELATIONS ARE PROMISED IN OIL LEASE PROBE

ing his chief objection on the grounds that such testimony might incriminate him when the oil cases are carried to court by the special counsel, Silas H. Strawn and Atlee Pomerene. In that event, the committee is known to be ready to start contempt proceedings immediately to compel him to answer on penalty of going to jail, provided under federal statutes. Should that course be adopted a long drawn out legal battle likely would ensue, said to be the precise procedure that Fall himself desires.

With all the evidence taken by the committee already in their hands, Strawn and Pomerene are expected to make the first definite move in the government's oil cases late this week or by Monday or Tuesday of next week. This first step will be the filing of injunction suits to prevent Sinclair and Doheny from further extracting oil from Teapot Dome or Elk Hills naval reserves as directed in the Walsh resolution. The special counsel, after conferences with officials of the Department of Justice and with assistants, have not yet determined definitely whether the injunctions will be sought in the District of Columbia or in western courts. As the leases were executed here, and as headquarters will be maintained in Washington, it was considered most probable that the injunctions would be asked from the District of Columbia Court.

THIS WOMAN'S MARVELLOUS RECOVERY

All Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Truman, Minn.—"I was badly run-down, had pains in my side and back; sometimes I could hardly move around in bed. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking it I was so much better I could do all my housework again. I do my housework, have a garden, raise chickens, and in harvest time I worked in the field and helped pick corn. Sometimes I do chores and milk. I took the Vegetable Compound before and after my four-months-old baby was born, and it has always helped me wonderfully. I believe there is no better medicine made for women, and I hope every woman will give it a fair trial."—Mrs. AUGUST R. WIEDERHOF, R. No. 2, Box 84, Truman, Minn.

Women suffering from troubles so common to their sex should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

The Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has relieved women of such troubles for the past fifty years. For sale by druggists everywhere.

EFFORTS OF SENATORS AND YANKS TO GET COLLINS END

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Boston, Mass., Feb. 5.—Any premature idea the New York Yankees and the Washington Senators may have entertained about taking title to the first old ruin, Eddie Collins, was just about dropped altogether at the outset of the American League schedule meeting today.

This fact was admitted by Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, and Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, at an early hour, both declaring with dignified haste that they had abandoned all hope of arranging a deal for the old young man of Chicago. Griffith also got himself more or less exercised over the possibility of a deal with Cleveland last night, but all to no purpose. E. S. Barnard, the Cleveland emissary, merely gazed coldly into Mr. Griffith's eye and went elsewhere, leaving the news scavengers to speculate as to what the proposition, if any, happened to be.

However, Griffith has other fish to fry, so to speak. He faces the necessity of taking into himself a manager for the 1924 season, a mere trifle that has escaped Mr. Griffith's attention to date. He admitted today he had been negotiating with Jack Barry, who short-stopped with considerable eclat for Connie Mack in the old days and later managed the Boston Red Sox into second place. Jack was not in a receptive mood but Mr. Griffith hopes to secure him.

The Collins matter might be resuscitated at today's meeting if the Chicago White Sox will condescend to detail some one to look after their interests here, something they had neglected to do up until this morning.

Something may come of the alleged attempt of the Detroit Tigers to wear one James Dykes, infielder, from the benign influence of Connie Mack. The Tigers, with Dykes at second base would be a pennant contender of the first water. Without Dykes they are what might be termed a most doubtful risk. It was expected, therefore that a studied attempt would be made at this meeting to do business with Mack, although it was stated today that Ty Cobb would turn up missing.

The meeting itself is just a bromide, adoption of a schedule being a formality. However, it will be garnished with considerable conversation on ways and means to have the league baseball. It is understood that an appeal will be presented to officials, identity not disclosed, in Washington.

CENTRAL HIGH TOSSERS MEET HOME CADETS HERE THURSDAY

By dint of much effort, tact and diplomacy, Coach Earl Burgner of Central High School, assuming the reins of the managerial end of the basketball team, has been able to complete a schedule for the blue and white five that will call for the best in the team before the season winds up.

The rest of the schedule follows:

Thursday, February 7—O. S. & S. O. Home at Central High.

Saturday, February 9—Miamisburg at Miamisburg.

February 15—Urbana High here.

February 16—Covington High here.

February 21—Middletown here.

February 23—Southwestern division, Ohio basketball tournament, at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, Dayton.

March 7—O. S. & S. O. Home at Central High.

The game with the Home Cadets at Central Gym Thursday night, is giving Coach Burgner much concern now, as the Central tossers are more than anxious to maintain a clean slate against the Cadets.

In previous games, the blue and white combinations have been able to come out on top and they hope to keep their record clean by again defeating Coach Sheets' pastimers.

Miamisburg on Saturday night, presents another tough combination. Miamisburg always presents a strong quintet, made doubly so by the fact that the game will be played at Miamisburg.

Efforts to book Piqua High here for a return game were futile. Piqua was defeated on its home floor earlier in the season by the locals and is not anxious to have a reception before a hostile crowd.

The game Thursday will be preceded by an encounter between Coach Black's Central Junior team and Clifton, which will be staged as a preliminary. The big game will start about 8:15 o'clock.

MCKINLEY IS STILL AT TOP IN CONTESTS

McKinley school elementary grade athletic teams led the scoring into the inter-school classes under Coach A. J. Black of Central Junior High Saturday.

McKinley scored 3,900 points in the competitive games. Spring Hill and St. Ignace tied with 1,700 each and Orient Hill scored 1,500 points.

McKinley also was out on top in the basketball games, winning three games and playing one scoreless tie. McKinley 6 A defeated St. Ignace 5 to 0; McKinley 5 A defeated Spring Hill 4 to 0; McKinley 4 defeated Spring Hill 4 tied without scoring. In the only other game, Spring Hill 6 defeated St. Ignace 2 to 1.

CONTEST IS CANCELLED

The scheduled game between the Babbs Winchester and Sabina, to have been played at Sabina Tuesday evening, has been cancelled by Sabina. It was announced. The game was to have been played at Sabina. Earlier in the season Sabina was defeated by the Winchester and immediately asked for another game. Three times since then games have been scheduled and later cancelled by Sabina.

DECIDE AGAINST APPRAISING OF PROPERTY HERE

County Commissioners Vote Unanimously Against Proposal

Greene County Commissioners voted unanimously against a re-appraisal of property in Greene County this year at a special meeting following an open hearing on the question in the assembly room of the Court House, Monday.

Action of the commissioners was taken according to law on a report of County Auditor R. O. Wead advocating a re-valuation of property this year, due to the fact there has not been an appraisal since 1910, and the allegation that a number of inequalities needing adjustment have accumulated on the tax duplicate in the last 14 years.

Sentiment of the open meeting was almost unanimously against a re-appraisal this year, although the belief was indicated that by next year valuations would have dropped about as low as they will from the war inflation period, and that a re-valuation at that time would be more acceptable.

Acting on this belief the meeting named Harvey Lackey, Ross Twp., farmer, chairman, and passed a motion introduced by J. F. Gordon, Jamestown, to name a committee of three to ask the state taxing commission to put off a re-appraisal in Greene County. An amendment proposed by Morris D. Rice, Osborn attorney, who favored re-valuation which would have compromised the body to a statement in favor of re-appraisal next year, was defeated before the motion was passed. Chairman Lackey then appointed R. D. Williamson, New Jasper Twp., former county commissioner, chairman of the committee with Mr. Rice and W. A. McDorman, Ross Twp., farmer as the other members.

Expressions for and against appraisal were sounded from the time the meeting was called to order until adjournment with the exception of the noon recess. More than 100 people were in attendance at all times. Real sentiment of the gathering was determined, however, when Emory Jhal, Xenia Twp., proposed for all those opposed to re-valuation to stand. Practically every one in the room stood up and only nine votes were cast for appraisal when that question was put. Every township except Sugar Creek was represented at the meeting in the afternoon.

Those who expressed their views on the subject during the afternoon session, were R. S. Townsley, Cedarville; Harvey Lackey, Ross Twp.; W. A. McDorman, Ross Twp.; R. D. Williamson, New Jasper Twp.; J. F. Gordon, Jamestown; Karth Bull, Cedarville; J. S. Van Eaton, Spring Valley; Ralph Howell, Miami Twp.; J. R. Orr, Cedarville; County Auditor Wead; Horace Anderson, Xenia Twp.; Emory Beal, Xenia Twp.; and M. H. Schmidt, Xenia. Others heard during the morning session were W. M. Hardman, Miami Twp.; P. H. Flynn, Xenia; E. W. Burrows, Bath Twp.; John Townsley, Cedarville Twp.; J. M. Stewart, Cedarville and R. C. Watt, Cedarville. Cedarville Twp., had the largest representation at the gathering with the exception of Xenia Twp.

Although sentiment of the meeting was overwhelmingly opposed to re-appraisal, Harvey Lackey, Ross Twp., who acted as temporary chairman, and, who took a firm stand against appraisal now, voiced belief that landowners would be ready for a re-valuation next year.

Argument for and against the question revolved partly around the question of whether valuations are back to normal or at least as low as they will go following the war inflation period. Opponents of valuation expressed themselves as believing the prices have not yet struck bottom, but believed they would by next year and that an appraisal then would be equitable. The suggestion that a clause asking that re-appraisal be withheld until 1925, and then conducted, be inserted in the motion to appoint a committee to instruct the State Taxing Commission was introduced, but later expurgated.

Mr. Rice said he believed an action of the committee appointed to ask the State Commission to withhold an order of re-appraisal would serve to focus attention of the commission on Greene County and would result in an investigation that would lead to a re-appraisal, but the suggestion was given little consideration.

Appointment of the committee resulted from information given out at the meeting that the county commissioners do not have the final word in the matter. People at the meeting were told by proponents of re-valuation that when the county commissioners turn down the re-appraisal question, the matter is placed in the hands of the State Taxing Commission. This commission may order a re-appraisal or not, as it wills, it is said.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Evil Shepherd

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

"That work can be well done or ill," the other reminded gently. "In your case, my presence here proves how well it was done. I wish to present you to my wife, who shares my gratitude."

Francis bowed to the woman, who now, at her husband's words, raised her eyes. For the first time he saw her smile. It seemed to him that the effort made her less beautiful.

"Your pleading was very wonderful," Mr. Ledsam, she said, a very subtle note of mockery faintly apparent in her tone. "We poor mortals find it difficult to understand that with you all that show of passionate earnestness is merely—what did you call it—a chapter in your day's work? It is a great gift to be able to argue from the brain and plead as though from the heart."

"We will not detain Mr. Ledsam," Oliver Hilditch interposed, a little hastily. "He perhaps does not care to be addressed in public by a client who still carries with him the atmosphere of the prison. My wife and I wondered, Mr. Ledsam, whether you would be good enough to dine with us one night. I think I could interest you by telling you more about my case than you know at present, and it would give us a further opportunity, and a more seemly one, for expressing our gratitude."

Francis had recovered himself by this time. He knew very well that the idea of that dinner would be horrible to him. He also knew that he would willingly cancel every engagement he had rather than miss it.

"You are very kind," he murmured. "Are we fortunate enough to find you disengaged?" Hilditch suggested, "tomorrow evening?"

"I am quite free," was the ready response. "That suits you, Margaret?" Hilditch asked, turning courteously to his wife. For a single moment her eyes were fixed upon those of her prospective guest. He read their message which pleaded for his refusal, and he denied it.

"Tomorrow evening will suit me as well as any other," she acquiesced, after a brief pause.

"At eight o'clock, then—number 10 b, Hill Street," Hilditch concluded.

Francis, bowed and turned away with a murmured word of polite assent. Outside, he found Wilmore deep in the discussion of the merits of various old brandies with an interested maître d'hotel.

"Any choice, Francis?" his host inquired.

"None whatever," was the prompt reply, "only, for God's sake, give me a double one quickly!"

The two men were on the point of departure when Oliver Hilditch and his wife left the restaurant. As though conscious that they had become the subject of discussion, as indeed was the case, thanks to the busy whispering of the various waiters, they passed without lingering through the lounge into the entrance hall, where Francis and Andrew Wilmore were already waiting for a taxicab. Almost as they appeared, a new arrival was ushered through the main entrance, followed by porters carrying luggage. He brushed past Francis so closely that the latter looked into his face, half attracted and half repelled by the waxen-like complexion, the piercing eyes, and the dignified carriage of the man whose arrival seemed to be creating some stir in the hotel. A reception clerk and a deputy manager had already hastened forward. The newcomer waved them back for a moment. Bareheaded, he had taken Margaret Hilditch's hands in his and raised them to his lips.

"I came as quickly as I could," he said. "There was the usual delay, of course, at Marseilles, and the trains on were terrible. So all has ended well."

Oliver Hilditch, standing by, remained speechless. It seemed for a moment as though his self-control were subjected to a severe strain.

"I had the good fortune," he interposed, in a low tone, "to be wonderfully defended. Mr. Ledsam here—"

He glanced around. Francis, with some idea of what was coming, obeyed an imaginary summons from the head porter, touched Andrew Wilmore upon the shoulder, and hastened without a backward glance through the swing doors. Wilmore turned up his coat collar and looked doubtfully up at the rain.

"I say, old chap," he protested, "you don't really mean to walk?"

Francis thrust his hand through his friend's arm and wheeled him round into Davis street.

"I don't care what the mischief we do, Andrew," he confided, "but couldn't you see what was going to happen? Oliver Hilditch was going to introduce me as his preserver to the man who had just arrived!"

"Are you afflicted with modesty, all of a sudden?" Wilmore grumbled. "No, remorse," was the terse reply.

Wilmore acquiesced willingly enough, but even as they turned towards the door Francis realized what was in store for him. Oliver Hilditch had risen to his feet. With a courteous little gesture he intercepted the passerby. Francis found himself standing side by side with the man for whose life he had pleaded that afternoon, within a few feet of the woman whose terrible story seemed to have poisoned the very atmosphere he breathed, to have shown him a new horror in life, to have temporarily, at any rate, undermined every joy and ambition he possessed.

"Mr. Ledsam," Hilditch said, speaking with quiet dignity, "I hope that you will forgive the liberty I take in speaking to you here. I looked for you the moment I was free this afternoon, but found that you had left the court. I owe you my good name, probably my life. Thanks are poor things but they must be spoken."

"You owe me nothing at all," Francis replied, in a tone which even he found harsh. "I had a brief before me and a cause to plead. It was a chapter out of my daily work."

DISAPPEARANCE OF MAN FROM EARTH IS POSSIBILITY

London, February 5.—The possibility of man's complete disappearance from the earth if science is used destructively was suggested in a speech today by Sir Richard Gregory, British scientist and editor of Nature.

"We are on the threshold of developments by which forces will be unleashed and powers acquired far beyond what has hitherto been known to man," he said.

"As with all other gifts, those of science may be used for good or evil, and the responsibility for their application, constructive or destructive, rests with statesmen and others to whom political powers are entrusted. If these gifts are misused, man will entirely disappear from this planet."

FARM PROGRESS

NEW RULING HITS FERTILIZERS OF INFERIOR GRADE

Ohio farmers who buy mixed fertilizers will in the future be protected against low-grade nitrogen, if a ruling recently approved by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists is adopted in this state, as now seems certain.

This ruling prohibits the use of such low-grade carriers of nitrogen as garbage tankage, wool and hair waste, leather, and the like, unless they have first been treated with sulfuric acid or live steam.

To enforce the ruling the chemists agreed that the nitrogen in fertilizers should pass these tests: When two-thirds of the nitrogen will not dissolve in water, that part which fails to dissolve in water must, in order to be approved by the state control officials, dissolve to the extent of 50 percent in a solution made of water, caustic soda, and permanganate.

All fertilizer nitrogen which does not meet one or both of these tests will, according to the ruling, be classed as "inferior," and so reported by the state inspectors. The State Department of Agriculture will publish these reports along with the annual fertilizer control bulletins which record the fertilizer analyses.

To these bulletins Ohio farmers can go for protection from low-grade stuff.
